

COUNTY ELECTION RETURNS WILL BE BULLETINED FROM THE FRONT OF THE PROGRESS BUILDING THIS EVENING

TOWN MEETING TICKET IS NO DOUBT WINNER

Erie Voting On Tremendous Road Bond Issue Totalling Almost Half Million Dollars

PENROSE FOR REFORM TICKET

Harrisburg, Nov. 6.—Erie county today is voting on the biggest loan for road improvements ever proposed in any county in the state. The total amount is $1,329,266, or two percent of the assessed valuation. The county commissioners themselves sent the proposition before the people in order to ascertain public sentiment.

Proposed bond issues for roads, streets and other improvements are being submitted today in numerous localities.

Philadelphia, Nov. 6.—Not since the memorable days of the gas lease revolt of 1905 have Philadelphia's gone to the polls under such excited conditions as today. Not even the stirring Tener-Merry-Grim campaign of 1910 approached the 1917 election.

Never before has the Republican organization been split. Always it has stood solidly against the common enemy and gone to victory or defeat without a split.

Today, the reverse is the case, and not merely control of the Republican organization in Philadelphia is at stake. Control of the state administration to be elected next year may hinge on what happens today in Philadelphia.

The Brothers Vane have stood staunchly behind the so-called "murder ticket" and continued to forecast its election today as the balloting continues. So did Mayor Smith.

Senator Penrose, who controls the state organization, just as confidently predicted the election of the Town Meeting ticket, made up of candidates of all parties and factions whose common purpose is the same—to defeat the Smith-Vare ticket. Penrose is fighting in the trenches today with men who have spent their political lives in fighting him and all he represented. The Democratic organization is working with the mush-room Town Meeting party.

Philadelphia politicians are secondarily interested in what happens today in other counties. Municipal battles in Pittsburgh, Scranton and elsewhere are almost as bitter as here, with Republican factional lines running parallel to the Philadelphia lines. The dope-book will be well-thumbed for weeks to come in efforts to prove precisely what effect today's elections will have on the Republican primaries next May.

Hero of Crimean War Dies At Clearfield

Frederick Shields Formerly of Osceola Had Envious Record

Frederick Shields a well known citizen of Osceola Mills until the past ten years during which he has resided in Clearfield, answered the last trumpet call this morning at an early hour. He was probably the most distinguished soldier of any foreign war at the time of his death, having served under General Lord George Paget in the Fourth Queen Old Light Dragoons during the Crimean war, and was a member of that regiment for five years doing outline picket duty in the saddle. He was in the famous Charge of the Light Brigade, the Battle of Balaklava, glorified by that stirring poem of Alfred Tennyson "The Charge of the Light Brigade." "Into the jaws of death, into the mouth of hell rode the six hundred."

On August 16, 1855, the regiment to which he belonged distinguished itself in a great skirmish called the Battle of Tchernia. Frederick Shields was a member of a fighting family in the service of England. He had a brother John Shields, who belonged to the Fifty-sixth Pampadours, and another brother Thomas Shields, who was a member of Prince Albert's Own

TWO ARMIES IN BIG RACE FOR ARTILLERY

Fate of Italians Depends On Their Ability To Bring Up Big Guns Quicker Than Enemy

TEUTONS PENETRATE LINES

London, Nov. 6.—General Cadorna's first line of defense has been penetrated by Austrian troops today's official statement said. The Austrians are reported to be concentrating for the drive through the breach.

Rome dispatches said the Italian forces were holding ground north of Pinzano. Several dispatches today said that the Tagliamento river was General Cadorna's "last stand." It is now a race between the two armies in bringing up their heavy artillery. In this the Italians have the advantage on account of their thorough transportation system. Even though the Austro-Germans have forced a breach in the Italian defense line they have failed so far to widen the apertures.

Camp Lee Boys Will Enjoy Many Goodies

Nice Sum Realized On Efforts of A. W. Leonardson for Boys

Thanks to the initiative of A. W. Leonardson, following a visit to Camp Lee the Clearfield contingent in that training camp will soon be regaling themselves with choice chocolates, satisfying "smokes" and other little creature comforts made possible by the movement started by Mr. Leonardson and generously contributed to by a number of Clearfield people.

As a result of a very little effort a handsome sum was contributed and this was used to purchase a long list of the things which Mr. Leonardson found by personal investigation were needed and longed for by the soldier boys.

WILL GO TO CAMP UPTON

Frederick Letzinger eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Letzinger, who enlisted in the U. S. Signal service at Philadelphia several months ago, and who has been on waiting orders ever since that time, received notice to report on Friday next at Camp Upton, Long Island, and will leave Thursday evening to enter upon his service.

"Ted" has had considerable wireless experience and is well equipped for the branch of the service he has chosen.

In Pennsylvania, chief interest centers in the Philadelphia municipal election, where the new independent town meeting party is endeavoring to unseat the Republican machine. In Pittsburgh a similar question is at issue.

Eleventh Hussars. A half brother, name unknown, also served seven years in the Fifty-sixth Pampadours. The subject of this sketch during a portion of his lifetime served in the English navy. The earlier history of his family shows that his grandfather on his mother's side served in the Forty-fourth regiment of the English army, and two of his sons served with the Duke of Wellington during the Franco-Prussian war. Several other members of his family were in the service of the English government as soldiers at various times. He was the proud possessor of a medal of honor for meritorious service and bravery on the field of battle.

He came to America in 1865 expecting to enlist in the service here. The war being over he of course was obliged to seek other occupation, and became a coal miner in the Moshannon mining region.

The funeral services will be held in Osceola Mills Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Carol N. Smith, officiating.

LAWRENCE TWP. SCHOOL BOARD HAS TROUBLES

Citizens Petition Court To Remove The Board of Education Alleging Neglect of Duty

ISSUE IS OF LONG STANDING

For many months past there has been more or less difficulty and disturbance among and between the members of the Lawrence township school board and this difference and misunderstanding was brought to a head and started on a fair way to a settlement when Attorney A. R. Chase, on behalf of the complaining citizens, filed a petition in the Prothonotary's office this morning in which Judge Bell is asked to remove the board from office on the charge of gross neglect of duty and violation of the provisions of the school code.

There has been a great deal of friction between the members of the board for some time and as is usually the case in such affairs resulted in the directors lining up in factions. The majority faction has been running things (the minority alleges) with a high hand and in utter disregard of the school code's mandates.

Regardless of who is to blame or what the trouble is, the court action will result in straightening out the difficulty, which will result in benefit to the schools and the final outcome is awaited with interest by all friends of the schools.

The charges against the school board which are sworn to by Jefferson Butler, S. C. Read, and Amos B. Owens, contains the names of forty-four citizens and tax-payers of the school district. Their charges cover four typewritten pages and embrace the following points:

1. Neglected and refused to perform the following duties, under the school code of 1911:

2. Refused to construct the building under terms of the school code.

3. Refuses and neglects to comply with Section 617 of the code by allotting contract in excess of $300 without advertisement and failing to ask for bids for same.

4. Failure to visit different schools as provided for in code.

5. Failed to compel the contractor to complete school buildings at Mt. Joy and Kerr addition, altho having paid large sums to contractor without first determining whether said contract had been complied with, and well knowing said contract as to foundation was not in compliance with requirements of State Board of Education.

6. Refused to comply with section 403 of school code as to keeping of proper records showing how each member voted on matter of purchase of supplies.

7. Refused to comply with Section 707 of school code in purchase of desks and other supplies of the first class costing $100 or more in that said board refused and neglected to solicit sealed quotations from two or more firms, manufacturers or dealers for the purchase of desks for the schools at Kerr Addition and Mt. Joy and did contract for said desks otherwise.

8. Refused to comply with code as to purchase of books, and other supplies and made contract for same without submitting the same to the board in regular session or any session called for the purpose.

The petition asks for the granting of a rule to show cause why the school board should not be removed from office. Service on the rule was accepted by Miller & Hartwick, attorneys for the board and the matter will not doubt be passed upon by Judge Bell fixing a date for hearing argument on the petition, at which time both sides will be given a chance to give their testimony and the whole matter will

Cooper Resident Gets On The Rampage

Lands in the Arm of the Law and Now a Guest of the Sheriff

Ed. Raymond, a Cooper township citizen, got so strenuous and full of the devil, that his wife could no longer stand it to live with him and being in fear of her life made information against Raymond before Squire Divinney at Winburne. The warrant was placed in the hands of Constable Tom Barr of Winburne, and he soon halted the offender before the Justice.

In default of a proper surety of the peace bond, Raymond was ordered committed to jail, and there the fun began. He objected every foot of the way from the Cooper township capital to the county "stone pile." The constable was forced to employ two deputies to assist him in getting his prisoner to jail.

It was an amusing sight to see them negotiate the long high steps at the jail entrance. The doughty constable got in front and the two deputies came behind as "pushers" and between them after much grunting, sweating and sweating the top was reached and the doors then clanged behind the prisoner. When searched at the jail Raymond was found to possess several hundred dollars in cash.

Constable Barr is fast becoming a terror to evildoers and is one of the most efficient peace officers in the lower end of the county. He recently landed Joe Kulla, the Curwensville man, who deserted when called for Camp Lee. Constable Barr by a clever piece of detective work located his man in the wilds in the region surrounding Gorton Heights and placed him under arrest.

Schwem Case Goes To The Superior Court

Will be Argued Monday in City of Philadelphia by Counsel

The case of the Clearfield County Dry Federation vs. John F. Reed, license applicant from Falls Creek, was argued before the Superior Court in Philadelphia on Monday last. R. D. Swope Esq., of Curwensville, appeared for the remonstrants and W. C. Miller, Esq., made the argument for Mr. Reed.

The appeal from the finding and sentence of Judge Whitehead in the case of Commonwealth vs. the Ed. D. Schwem Company will be argued before the Superior Court on Monday, Nov. 12th. This is the test case regarding the legality of the 1916 wholesale and brewery licenses in Clearfield county.

In this case the Superior Court decided the lower Court had no jurisdiction on account of faulty or illegal advertising of the applications and that the licenses issued were illegal. Then suit was brought for violation of the liquor law in doing business under these licenses.

The case against the Ed. D. Schwem Co. was tried before Judge Whitehead in the nature of a test case and resulted in a verdict of guilty by direction of the Court.

The Judge imposed a sentence of $1000 and costs and the defendant's attorneys appealed from the imposition of the sentence and it is this appeal which will be argued Monday next at Philadelphia. Mr. Swope will represent the Commonwealth and Mr. Miller the defendant.

Virginia elects a complete ticket of state officers. For the governorship Westmoreland Davis, Democrat, is opposed by Thomas J. Muncy, Republican.

SOLDIER'S CHRISTMAS FUND

There will be a lecture given in the Eleventh Street Methodist Episcopal church by Rev. J. C. Collins on Tuesday evening, November 13th, for the benefit of the Soldier's Christmas Box fund. The subject of the lecture is "The House That Jack Built" and as Rev. Collins has an enviable reputation as a lecturer will be well worth hearing.

An admission fee of 15 and 25 cents will be charged.

The school board is composed of Vance C. Welch, C. K. Thompson, Ed. T. Harris, M. V. Mann and Amos B. Owens.

DISSAPPEARANCE OF NEW CASTLE GIRL A MYSTERY

Daughter of Bank President Left There Last Week To Go To Cleveland And Is Lost

SHE USED AN ASSUMED NAME

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 6.—Virginia Foltz, 19 year old daughter of Samuel Foltz, President of the First National Bank of New Castle, Pa., who came to Cleveland to engage in social settlement work has disappeared it was learned today.

Miss Foltz arrived here last Friday and registered at the Y. W. C. A. as Helen Jones. Cleveland police, private detectives and relatives of the girl were vigilant in their search today.

Two theories are advanced—one is that she was a victim of thieves as she had considerable jewelry among which was a diamond ring valued at $400. Another theory is that she covered up her identity in order to follow her ambition of being a nurse or a social settlement worker to which work her New Castle friends objected. Detectives learned today that a young man met her at the railroad station when she arrived in Cleveland. The girl was last seen leaving the Y. W. C. A. early Saturday morning.

H. W. R. Co. Honors Memory Of H. F. Bigler

Pass Resolutions and Order Them Spread on Minute Books

A meeting of the Board of Directors of Harbison-Walker Refractories company, held Monday, November 5th, 1917, the following record of the death of Harry F. Bigler, Clearfield, Pa., was placed on the minutes:

"The Board of Directors of the Harbison-Walker Refractories company record the death of Harry F. Bigler, on Thursday, October 25th, 1917, one of the most active directors of the company since its incorporation; also during the same period active in the management of its affairs in Clearfield (Pa.) district.

In all his varied relations with the Company, he commanded the respect, esteem and good-will of all employees, officials and fellow-members of the Board of Directors.

The same characteristics manifested in his relations with the Company found expression also in the community in which he lived, where his memory will be revered for his high character, generosity and philanthropy.

In this hour of sadness, the Board of Directors extend sincere sympathy to his family. The keenness of their grief may well be tempered by the knowledge he has left to them a legacy of highest character and integrity."

Ideal Weather Greet Voters At The Polls

Little Chance However for Record Turnout Throughout County

Today was an ideal election day and should result in bringing out an immense vote unless the farmer decides there is more money for him in staying home, hawking his corn or digging his late potatoes than there is in traveling two or three miles to the polls and back.

In Clearfield borough a fair vote is coming out. At 2:15 o'clock there were 709 votes polled in the borough and despite the strenuous campaign for district attorney, sheriff and burgess it does not look as though a record vote would be polled.

The vote at 2:15 was as follows:

First ward 197
Second ward 208
Third ward 206
Fourth ward 84

PITTSBURG IS GUESSING ON THE RESULTS

No One Can Be Found Who Is Willing To Make a Clean-cut Prediction On Result

WET AND DRY ISSUE IS UP

Pittsburgh, Nov. 6.—No one in Pittsburgh—not even the seventh son of a seventh son—could be found today who was willing to stake his reputation as a prophet and make a real forecast of the result of the mayoralty election. There was plenty of prediction—but it was of the claim-everything-concede-nothing political variety.

The already complicated battle between E. V. Babcock, Penrose Republican, and ex-Mayor William A. Magee, Smith-Brumbaugh-Vare Republican, was not in the least cleared up late last week when the organized suffragists—no mean factor in this end of the state—swung the full weight of their cause to Magee, solely on the question of a vice "clean-up."

The Mayoralty battle has so many local angles that the Pittsburgh voter generally has lost sight of anything except the immediate result. It is conceded, however, by the political managers that the real stake is the governorship. A Babcock victory will mean that Senator Penrose can expect strong support in any program for next Spring's gubernatorial primaries. A Magee victory will indicate that the Smith-Vare ticket will get the weight of support from Pittsburgh.

Five common pleas judges are to be elected in Allegheny and the "wet and dry" issue has figured extensively in their campaigns.

Enemies Of U. S. Starting Chain Letters To Burden Postoffices

Several of These Despicable Weapons of Teuton Origin Are In Circulation Here Now

Last week all over the country a huge avalanche of endless chain "prayer letters" flooded the United States mail and became so overwhelming that for a time they bid fair to swamp the postal facilities in many sections. So sudden was the influx that the post office department was for a time unable to account for the awful rush.

The matter was called to the attention of the United States secret service and their operatives with the Postal Inspectors have traced the thing down to a gang of German sympathizers who opened their campaign simultaneously from Maine to California, their purpose being to so interfere with and clog the United States mails in this country at this time that it would be impossible to transact the regular and necessary business of the country and also greatly interfere with the despatch of soldiers Christmas boxes by mail and with correspondence between the homes of the soldiers and the trenches of France and different training camps in this country. An organized effort is being made to break the scheme up and it behooves everybody to get awake and assist in this laudable effort.

The scheme is in the form of an endless chain prayer and is worked principally among the women. The names of women in the families of soldiers at the front or in the training camps are used to start with and they are expected to do the rest. They have a series of letters, no two being alike with the result that the conspirators may have the entire list working in one community. As a rule they gauge the number of different letters by the size of the community.

The work of these plotters and despicable enemies of the United States and her soldiers reached Clearfield this week and already the mails of the local postoffice have started to double in size. Hundreds of our people have received copies of the following "prayer" and are biting on the scheme and sending it along:

"Oh God, we implore Thy blessings on our soldiers and sailors. Keep them in the hollow of Thy hand. This was received by me October 31, 1917. It has been all over the world. Copy it and see what happens. It was said in olden days that all who wrote this would be free from care and all who would pass it by would meet with misfortune. Send it to seven persons and on the seventh day you will receive great joy. Send one day you receive this please. Do not break the chain; be sure and sign your name."

When you receive a copy of this or something along the same line do not fall for the trick. It is intended to defeat the very purpose you aim at and by loading the mails aims to make the soldiers in camp homesick and despondent because they do not hear more regularly from the home folks. This is the idea and object of this and all other forms of endless chain postal requests you may receive now or hereafter. Please bear this in mind.

Also remember that all right thinking Americans, male or female, are daily offering up prayers for the success of our arms and the preservation and safe return of our soldiers. They do not need any "endless chain" reminder to do so, and the person who needs such reminder would not pray anyhow. Besides "the prayers of the wicked availeth not."

Pray for our brave boys at the front but keep your pen dry, where endless chain prayers are concerned.

HAIG IS WITHIN A HALF MILE OF PASSCHENDALE

Terrific Fighting Marks Approach To Town Which Has Been Object In Drive

CANADIANS ARE IN THE FRONT

By Wm. Phillip Simms

Nov. 6.—The first shock of another smashing blow by Field Marshal Haig early today carried Canadian troops into Melligheele Spur and into Messenmarkt beyond and to the northwest of Passchendale. Head quarter advisers reported as this dispatch was filed declared that the fighting is unusually bitter—the Germans contesting every inch of the ridge. Melligheele Spur was carried by storm attacks. If the British are able to retain the Spur they will be within a half mile of the city of Passchendale.

In Massachusetts, Governor McCall, Republican, is a candidate for a third term, with Frederick W. Mansfield, Democrat, as his chief opponent.

Voters of the Sixth Massachusetts district will elect a congressman to succeed Augustus P. Gardner, who resigned to enter the military service.

TUESDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 6, 1917.

Take this tip from father: Don't neglect to go to the polls this evening and then kick about the way the different departments of government are run during the next year.

A representative of the Department of Agriculture addressed a meeting in Washington a few days ago and emphasized the need of production of purer milk at a lower price. He might rent a farm and show the American dairymen how to do it.

We are in receipt of a communication from some one signing the name of Antonio Maccaromo which of course, was written by some one afraid to sign his real name. Will the gentleman, if he is one, kindly call at our office tonight to discuss the matter he writes about? If not, we will feel obliged to reply to him in these columns, and our reply is likely to need an asbestos covering to go thru the mails.

Hoover says the prices of food will be reduced before the New Year comes and Garfield says there will be plenty of coal for all domestic and industrial needs. Crozier says there will be rifles enough for our soldiers who go to France. Sharpe says there will be adequate heating apparatus in the cantonment barracks. The use of the future tense by the authorities at Washington seems to be unanimous.

W. J. Bryan says that he does not know how long the war will last but that he knows the quickest way out is straight through. Fine fine! And how splendid that would have sounded a few years back when a Republican administration was trying to put down the Aguinaldo rebellion in order to bring peace, health and happiness to the residents of the Philippines. But Bryan was singing a different song in those days.

When a few days ago John Edgar Manning, scarcely eighteen years of age, cut short his college education to join Battery A, 316 Field Artillery, this made the fifth son of Governor and Mrs. Richard I. Manning of South Carolina, to enter the United States army. His next older brother, about two years below the age requirements for the draft, is serving as a private. The three other sons of the Governor, Wyndham, Bernard and William, all married, are in the service two of them sacrificing a handsome salary to volunteer.

And they say this is a Rich Man's War!

By the time another issue of this paper is printed the voters will have spoken and the vast governmental machinery of our country will be putting into effect the wish of the people, expressed by the people and for the people. So far as elections are concerned we are not willing to concede that government of the people, by the people and for the people has perished from the earth. Oftimes however, our judgment on men goes awry and we, the people, elect a man who governs those who elected him, not with the idea of carrying out the wishes of his constituents but with the sole idea of exercising autocratic powers himself. In no other way can our method of government fail to be a government of the people by the people and for the people and our present system of ballots approaches nearer the ideal stage than any system in the world. No man can win an office under our system unless he is the choice of the greater number of people, so no matter who wins today, accept the verdict of the people for it is theirs to govern.

Building Credit

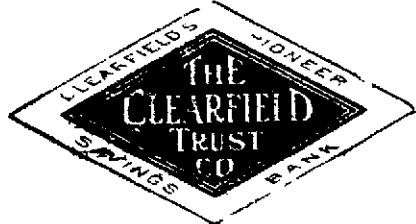

THE WORLD'S BUSINESS is done largely on a credit basis.

CREDIT primarily consists in the temporary use of funds belonging to another.

ITS EXTENSION is based upon a confidence in the borrower's ability and reputation for meeting his obligations as they fall due.

A BANK ACCOUNT with a reliable financial institution is a strong credit recommendation.

THIS INSTITUTION invites Commercial Accounts.

Peanut butter is a highly nourishing food and may be used in various ways in the preparation of the meal.

Peanut Loaf.
To one-half cupful of finely chopped peanuts add a cupful of boiled rice, and one cupful of fine bread crumbs. Mix thoroughly, add a tablespoonful of softened peanut butter, one egg, well beaten, and a fourth of a teaspoonful of sage. Form into a loaf and bake half an hour. Serve with tartar sauce.

Rye Mush Meal.
Mix a half cupful of rye meal, one-half cupful of cold water and a half teaspoonful of salt, add to one and a fourth cupfuls of boiling water and cook one hour in a double boiler. Serve with maple syrup.

Tomato Mince Meat.
Take a peck of green tomatoes slice them and let stand in salt for 24 hours, drain and add 24 apples, five pounds of brown sugar, three pounds of raisins two pounds of currants, a tablespoonful of cinnamon, a teaspoonful of cloves, one grated nutmeg and a pint of good vinegar, cook one and a half hours, then put into glass cans and seal.

Bread Crumb Griddle Cakes.
Take a pint of thick sour milk, a half teaspoonful of salt, a teaspoonful of soda, one egg, one cupful of whole wheat flour and enough white flour to make a batter with one cupful of break crumbs. Beat well and cook on a hot griddle.

Oatmeal Bread.
Pour two cupfuls of scalded milk on one and a half cupfuls of uncooked oatmeal; add two tablespoonfuls of shortening, a teaspoonful of salt, and two tablespoonfuls of molasses. When cool add one-third of a yeast cake softened and mixed with a half cupful of lukewarm water, three cupfuls of whole wheat flour and two cupfuls of white flour; mix with a knife to a dough, adding as much flour as is needed. Wash the bowl and butter it, then put back the bread to rise in a warm place. When double its bulk, cut into two loaves, shape and bake one hour after it has risen to double its bulk again.

BOGGS TOWNSHIP HOUSE BURNS

The residence of Isaac Biesh located in the Turner settlement in Boggs township burned last night on account of a defective flue. Mr. Biesh detected the fire and put it out once and some time later smelled smoke again. Returning to the attic he found the flames had gotten such headway that it was impossible to save the building. Mr. Biesh is tax collector for Boggs township and it is reported that a considerable sum of money was burned. This rumor is unconfirmed.

"WHIZ" SOAP

TWO SOAPS IN ONE

For Hand Use

Automobilists, Shopmen and Mechanics like "Whiz" because it cleans the hands clean. It gets down into the cracks and pores of the skin and drags the dirt out bodily. It removes dirt, grease, grime and stains that ordinary soap cannot touch. Wash your hands with cake soap—then give them a "WHIZ" bath, and see the difference. "WHIZ" and dirt simply can't be friends.

For Kitchen Use

For Kitchen and Bathroom scouring "WHIZ" is a delight to the housewife. It scours so effectively—yet so easily. Put a can of "WHIZ" on your kitchen sink—use it for scouring anything—pots, pans, sink, bathtub, kitchen utensils. When "WHIZ" says "scout" to dirt—it scoots. Just try one can—you'll like it well enough to use another.

Sore throat goes over night—lumbago agony in an hour. Chest colds, stiff necks, neuritis, pleurisy, rheumatic pains and swelling all yield promptly and are speedily ended with Mustarine, the original mustard plaster substitute in the yellow box—only 25 cents.

WORTH OF A SIMPLE RULE

Value Demonstrated by Novel's Heroine Who Believed No Situation Justified a Wrong Deed.

The heroine of a novel of more than usual interest, by adhering persistently to a maxim, saves several persons from the consequences of their weaknesses and brings them to her own point of view in a truly astonishing way. The nub of her philosophy is that if you do right, only good will come of it and she proceeds from the first chapter to work practical proof of it among a circle of people bent on indulging their own wills and whims rather than doing right.

Some simple rule of conduct is a convenience for everybody, says the Pittsburgh Gazette-Times. It may easily become a personal motto and living up to it a fetish. That was the case with the heroine of fiction; doing right was almost an obsession with her, but for all that she was by no means dull and the opposite of insipid. She believed no situation justified a wrong deed and none was so bad that a good one couldn't improve it, so she persisted in doing right when everybody else in the book—save one, of course—seemed determined to do wrong. But she proved the worth of a simple rule in governing daily conduct with people.

When Itching Stops

There is one safe, dependable treatment that relieves itching torture and skin irritation almost instantly and that cleanses and soothes the skin.

Ask any druggist for a 50c or $1 bottle of zemo and apply it as directed. Soon you will find that irritations, pimples, blackheads, eczema, blotches, ringworm and similar skin troubles will disappear.

A little zemo, the penetrating, satisfying liquid, is all that is needed, for it banishes most skin eruptions and makes the skin soft, smooth and healthy. The E. W. Rose Co., Cleveland, O.

A RAW, SORE THROAT

Soaks Quickly When You Apply a Little Musterole.

And Musterole won't blister like the old-fashioned mustard plaster. Just spread it on with your fingers. It penetrates to the sore spot with a gentle angle, loosens the congestion and draws out the soreness and pain.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. It is fine for quick relief from sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuritis, headache, congestion, pleurisy, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, chilblains, frostbite, colds on the chest (it often prevents pneumonia), itching like Musterole for croupy children. Keep it handy for instant use. 50c and 80c jars, hospital size $2.50.

DUTY OF PRESENT MINISTRY

Better Than All the Post-Mortem Testimonials and Devotion We Can Bestow.

Do not keep your sublime love and tenderness sealed up until your friends are dead. Fill their lives with sweetness; speak approving, cheering words while their ears can hear them, and while their hearts can be thrilled and be made happier by them. The kind things you mean to do when they are gone, do before they go. The flowers you mean to send for their coffins, send to brighten and sweeten their homes before they leave them. If my friends have alabaster boxes laid away full of fragrant perfumes of sympathy and affection which they intend to break over my dead body, I would rather they would bring them out in my weary and troubled hours and open them that I may be refreshed and cheered by them while I need them. I would rather have a plain coffin without flowers, a funeral without a eulogy, than life without sweetness of love and sympathy. Let us learn to anoint our friend beforehand for burial. Post-mortem kindness does not cheer the burdened spirit; flowers on a coffin cast no fragrance backward over the weary way.—Selected.

The Undergraduate Speaks.

I find that there is a cause for the lack of individuality in undergraduate theses, a cause other than the mere absence of ideas in undergraduates. It may be traced even to the doors of classrooms and to the chairs of college professors. For, in college, literature is not a thing of the spirit but of the mind, and you will encounter above the door of the English department the scholar's first and last commandment, "Beware of your emotions."

There is no escape for those who enter, so have done with your adolescence, which has given you to understand beauty and freshness of phrase. You are face to face now with form, with technique, and with the history of literature.—Atlantic.

COUNTY ELECTION RETURNS WILL BE BULLETINED FROM THE FRONT OF THE PROGRESS BUILDING THIS EVENING

TOWN MEETING TICKET IS NO DOUBT WINNER

Erie Voting On Tremendous Road Bond Issue Totalling Almost Half Million Dollars

PENROSE FOR REFORM TICKET

Harrisburg, Nov. 6.—Erie county today is voting on the biggest loan for road improvements ever proposed in any county in the state. The total amount is $1,329,266, or two per cent of the assessed valuation. The county commissioners themselves sent the proposition before the people in order to ascertain public sentiment.

Proposed bond issues for roads, streets and other improvements are being submitted today in numerous localities.

Philadelphia, Nov. 6.—Not since the memorable days of the gas lease revolt of 1905 have Philadelphia's voters to the polls under such excited conditions as today. Not even the stirring Tener-Merry-Grim campaign of 1912 approached the 1917 election.

Never before has the Republican organization been split. Always it has stood solidly against the common enemy and gone to victory or defeat without a split.

Today, the reverse is the case, and not merely control of the Republican organization in Philadelphia is at stake. Control of the state administration to be elected next year may hinge on what happens today in Philadelphia.

The Brothers Vane have stood staunchly behind the so-called "murder ticket" and continued to forecast its election today as the balloting continues. So did Mayor Smith.

Senator Penrose, who controls the state organization, just as confidently predicted the election of the Town Meeting ticket, made up of candidates of all parties and factions whose common purpose is the same—to defeat the Smith-Vare ticket. Penrose is fighting in the trenches today with men who have spent their political lives in fighting him and all he represented. The Democratic organization is working with the mush-room Town Meeting party.

Hero of Crimean War Dies At Clearfield

Frederick Shields Formerly of Osceola Had Envious Record

Frederick Shields a well known citizen of Osceola Mills until the past ten years during which he has resided in Clearfield, answered the last trumpet call this morning at an early hour. He was probably the most distinguished soldier of any foreign war at the time of his death, having served under General Lord George Paget in the Fourth Queen Old Light Dragoons during the Crimean war, and was a member of that regiment for five years doing outline picket duty in the saddle. He was in the famous Charge of the Light Brigade, the Battle of Balaklava, glorified by that stirring poem of Alfred Tennyson "The Charge of the Light Brigade." "Into the jaws of death, into the mouth of hell rode the six hundred."

On August 16, 1855, the regiment to which he belonged distinguished itself in a great skirmish called the Battle of Tchernia. Frederick Shields was a member of a fighting family in the service of England. He had a brother John Shields, who belonged to the Fifty-sixth Pampadours, and another brother Thomas Shields, who was a member of Prince Albert's Own

Fate of Italians Depends On Their Ability To Bring Up Big Guns Quicker Than Enemy

TEUTONS PENETRATE LINES

London, Nov. 6.—General Cadorna's first line of defense has been penetrated by Austrian troops today's official statement said. The Austrians are reported to be concentrating for the drive through the breach.

Rome dispatches said the Italian forces were holding ground north of Pinzano. Several dispatches today said that the Tagliamento river was General Cadorna's "last stand." It is now a race between the two armies in bringing up their heavy artillery. In this the Italians have the advantage on account of their thorough transportation system. Even though the Austro-Germans have forced a breach in the Italian defense line they have failed so far to widen the apertures.

Camp Lee Boys Will Enjoy Many Goodies

Nice Sum Realized On Efforts of A. W. Leonardson for Boys

Thanks to the initiative of A. W. Leonardson, following a visit to Camp Lee the Clearfield contingent in that training camp will soon be regaling themselves with choice chocolates, satisfying "smokes" and other little creature comforts made possible by the movement started by Mr. Leonardson and generously contributed to by a number of Clearfield people.

As a result of a very little effort, a handsome sum was contributed and this was used to purchase a long list of the things which Mr. Leonardson found by personal investigation were needed and longed for by the soldier boys.

WILL GO TO CAMP UPTON

Frederick Leitzinger eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Leitzinger, who enlisted in the U. S. Signal service at Philadelphia several months ago, and who has been on waiting orders ever since that time, received notice to report on Friday next at Camp Upton, Long Island, and will leave Thursday evening to enter upon his service.

"Ted" has had considerable wireless experience and is well equipped for the branch of the service he has chosen.

In Pennsylvania, chief interest centers in the Philadelphia municipal election, where the new independent town meeting party is endeavoring to unseat the Republican machine. In Pittsburgh a similar question is at issue.

Eleventh Hussars. A half brother, name unknown, also served seven years in the Fifty-sixth Pampadours. The subject of this sketch during a portion of his lifetime served in the English navy. The earlier history of his family shows that his grandfather on his mother's side served in the Forty-fourth regiment of the English army, and two of his sons served with the Duke of Wellington during the Franco-Prussian war. Several other members of his family were in the service of the English government as soldiers at various times. He was the proud possessor of a medal of honor for meritorious service and bravery on the field of battle.

He came to America in 1865 expecting to enlist in the service here. The war being over he of course was obliged to seek other occupation, and became a coal miner in the Moshannon mining region.

The funeral services will be held in Osceola Mills Wednesday afternoon. Rev. Carol N. Smith, officiating.

LAWRENCE TWP. SCHOOL BOARD HAS TROUBLES

Citizens Petition Court To Remove The Board of Education Alleging Neglect of Duty

ISSUE IS OF LONG STANDING

For many months past there has been more or less difficulty and disturbance among and between the members of the Lawrence township school board and this difference and misunderstanding was brought to a head and started on a fair way to a settlement when Attorney A. R. Chase, on behalf of the complaining citizens, filed a petition in the Prothonotary's office this morning in which Judge Bell is asked to remove the board from office on the charge of gross neglect of duty and violation of the provisions of the school code.

There has been a great deal of friction between the members of the board for some time and as is usually the case in such affairs resulted in the directors lining up in factions. The majority faction has been running things (the minority alleges) with a high hand and in utter disregard of the school code's mandates.

Regardless of who is to blame or what the trouble is, the court action will result in straightening out the difficulty, which will result in benefit to the schools and the final outcome is awaited with interest by all friends of the schools.

The charges against the school board which are sworn to by Jefferson Butler, S. C. Read, and Amos B. Owens, contains the names of forty-four citizens and tax-payers of the school district. Their charges cover four typewritten pages and embrace the following points:

1. Neglected and refused to supply a school house at Mt. Joy to replace the house destroyed by fire in February, 1917. There is no school in this community this year. A contract was let for a building and work started but no work has been done on same for some time.

2. Refused to construct the building under terms of the school code.

3. Refuses and neglects to comply with Section 617 of the code by allotting contract in excess of $300 without advertisement and failing to ask for bids for same.

4. Failure to visit different schools as provided for in code.

5. Failed to compel the contractor to complete school buildings at Mt. Joy and Kerr addition, altho having paid large sums to contractor without first determining whether said contract had been complied with, and well knowing said contract as to foundation was not in compliance with requirements of State Board of Education.

6. Refused to comply with section 403 of school code as to keeping of proper records showing how each member voted on matter of purchase of supplies.

7. Refused to comply with Section 707 of school code in purchase of desks and other supplies of the first class costing $100 or more in that said board refused and neglected to solicit sealed quotations from two or more firms, manufacturers or dealers for the purchase of desks for the schools at Kerr Addition and Mt. Joy, and did contract for said desks otherwise.

8. Refused to comply with code as to purchase of books, and other supplies and made contracts for same without submitting the same to the board in regular session or any session called for the purpose.

The petition asks for the granting of a rule to show cause why the school board should not be removed from office. Service on the rule was accepted by Miller & Hartwick, attorneys for the board, and the matter will no doubt be passed upon by Judge Bell fixing a date for hearing argument on the petition, at which time both sides will be given a chance to give their testimony and the whole matter will

Lands in the Arm of the Law and Now a Guest of the Sheriff

Ed. Raymond, a Cooper township citizen, got so strenuous and full of the devil, that his wife could no longer stand it to live with him and being in fear of her life made information against Raymond before Squire Divinney at Winburne. The warrant was placed in the hands of Constable Tom Barr of Winburne, and he soon halted the offender before the Justice.

In default of a proper surety of the peace bond, Raymond was ordered committed to jail, and there the fun began. He objected every foot of the way from the Cooper township capital to the county "stone pile." The constable was forced to employ two deputies to assist him in getting his prisoner to jail.

It was an amusing sight to see them negotiate the long high steps at the jail entrance. The doughty constable got in front and the two deputies came behind as "pushers" and between them after much grunting, sweating and sweating the top was reached and the doors then clanged behind the prisoner. When searched at the jail Raymond was found to possess several hundred dollars in cash.

Constable Barr is fast becoming a terror to evildoers and is one of the most efficient peace officers in the lower end of the county. He recently landed Joe Kulla, the Curwensville man, who deserted when called for Camp Lee. Constable Barr by a clever piece of detective work located his man in the wilds in the region surrounding Gorton Heights and placed him under arrest.

Schwem Case Goes To The Superior Court

Will be Argued Monday in City of Philadelphia by Counsel

The case of the Clearfield County Dry Federation vs. John F. Reed, license applicant from Falls Creek, was argued before the Superior Court in Philadelphia on Monday last. R. D. Swope Esq., of Curwensville, appeared for the remonstrants and W. C. Miller, Esq., made the argument for Mr. Reed.

The appeal from the finding and sentence of Judge Whitehead in the case of Commonwealth vs. the Ed. D. Schwem Company will be argued before the Superior Court on Monday, Nov. 12th. This is the test case regarding the legality of the 1916 wholesale and brewery licenses in Clearfield county.

In this case the Superior Court decided the lower Court had no jurisdiction on account of faulty or illegal advertising of the applications and that the licenses issued were illegal. Then suit was brought for violation of the liquor law in doing business under these licenses.

The case against the Ed. D. Schwem Co. was tried before Judge Whitehead in the nature of a test case and resulted in a verdict of guilty by direction of the Court.

The Judge imposed a sentence of $1000 and costs and the defendant's attorneys appealed from the imposition of the sentence and it is this appeal which will be argued Monday next at Philadelphia. Mr. Swope will represent the Commonwealth and Mr. Miller the defendant.

SOLDIER'S CHRISTMAS FUND

There will be a lecture given in the Eleventh Street Methodist Episcopal church by Rev. J. C. Collins on Tuesday evening, November 13th, for the benefit of the Soldier's Christmas Box fund. The subject of the lecture is "The House That Jack Built" and as Rev. Collins has an enviable reputation as a lecturer will be well worth hearing.

An admission fee of 15 and 25 cents will be charged.

The school board is composed of Vance C. With, C. K. Thompson, Ed. T. Harris, M. V. Mason and Amos B. Owens.

DISSAPPEARANCE OF NEW CASTLE GIRL A MYSTERY

Daughter of Bank President Left There Last Week To Go To Cleveland And Is Lost

SHE USED AN ASSUMED NAME

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 6.—Virginia Foltz, 19 year old daughter of Samuel Foltz, President of the First National Bank of New Castle, Pa., who came to Cleveland to engage in social settlement work has disappeared it was learned today.

Miss Foltz arrived here last Friday and registered at the Y. W. C. A. as Helen Jones. Cleveland police, private detectives and relatives of the girl were vigilant in their search today.

Two theories are advanced—one is that she was a victim of thieves as she had considerable jewelry among which was a diamond ring valued at $400. Another theory is that she covered up her identity in order to follow her ambition of being a nurse or a social settlement worker to which work her New Castle friends objected. Detectives learned today that a young man met her at the railroad station when she arrived in Cleveland. The girl was last seen leaving the Y. W. C. A. early Saturday morning.

H. W. R. Co. Honors Memory Of H. F. Bigler

Pass Resolutions and Order Them Spread on Minute Books

A meeting of the Board of Directors of Harbison-Walker Refractories company, held Monday, November 5th, 1917, the following record of the death of Harry F. Bigler, Clearfield, Pa., was placed on the minutes:

"The Board of Directors of the Harbison-Walker Refractories company record the death of Harry F. Bigler, on Thursday, October 25th, 1917, one of the most active directors of the company since its incorporation; also during the same period active in the management of its affairs in Clearfield (Pa.) district.

In all his varied relations with the Company, he commanded the respect, esteem and good-will of all employees, officials and fellow-members of the Board of Directors.

The same characteristics manifested in his relations with the Company found expression also in the community in which he lived, where his memory will be revered for his high character, generosity and philanthropy.

In this hour of sadness, the Board of Directors extend sincere sympathy to his family. The keenness of their grief may well be tempered by the knowledge he has left to them a legacy of highest character and integrity."

Ideal Weather Greet Voters At The Polls

Little Chance However for Record Turnout Throughout County

Today was an ideal election day and should result in bringing out an immense vote unless the farmer decides there is more money for him in staying home, hawking his corn or digging his late potatoes than there is in traveling two or three miles to the polls and back.

In Clearfield borough a fair vote is coming out. At 2:15 o'clock there were 709 votes polled in the borough and despite the strenuous campaign for district attorney, sheriff and burgess it does not look as though a record vote would be polled.

The vote at 2:15 was as follows:

First ward 197
Second ward 208
Third ward 208
Fourth ward 84

PITTSBURG IS GUESSING ON THE RESULTS

No One Can Be Found Who Is Willing To Make a Clean-cut Prediction On Result

WET AND DRY ISSUE IS UP

Pittsburgh, Nov. 6.—No one in Pittsburgh—not even the seventh son of a seventh son—could be found today who was willing to stake his reputation as a prophet and make a real forecast of the result of the mayoralty election. There was plenty of prediction—but it was of the claim-everything-concede-nothing political variety.

The already complicated battle between E. V. Babcock, Penrose Republican, and ex-Mayor William A. Magee, Smith-Brumbaugh-Vare Republican, was not in the least cleared up late last week when the organized suffragists—no mean factor in this end of the state—swung the full weight of their cause to Magee, solely on the question of a vice "clean-up."

The Mayoralty battle has so many local angles that the Pittsburgh voter generally has lost sight of anything except the immediate result. It is conceded, however, by the political managers that the real stake is the governorship. A Babcock victory will mean that Senator Penrose can expect strong support in any program for next Spring's gubernatorial primaries. A Magee victory will indicate that the Smith-Vare ticket will get the weight of support from Pittsburgh.

Five common pleas judges are to be elected in Allegheny and the "wet" and "dry" issue has figured extensively in their campaigns.

Enemies Of U. S. Starting Chain Letters To Burden Postoffices

Several of These Despicable Weapons of Teuton Origin Are In Circulation Here Now

Last week all over the country a huge avalanche of endless chain "prayer letters" flooded the United States mail and became so overwhelming that for a time they bid fair to swamp the postal facilities in many sections. So sudden was the influx that the post office department was for a time unable to account for the awful rush.

The matter was called to the attention of the United States secret service and their operatives with the Postal Inspectors have traced the thing down to a gang of German sympathizers who opened their campaign simultaneously from Maine to California, their purpose being to so interfere with and clog the United States mails in this country at this time that it would be impossible to transact the regular and necessary business of the country and also greatly interfere with the despatch of soldiers Christmas boxes by mail and with correspondence between the homes of the soldiers and the trenches of France and different training camps in this country. An organized effort is being made to break the scheme up and it behooves everybody to get awake and assist in this laudable effort.

The scheme is in the form of an endless chain prayer and is worked principally among the women. The names of women in the families of soldiers at the front or in the training camps are used to start with and they are expected to do the rest. They have a series of letters, no two being alike, with the result that the conspirators may have the entire list working in one community. As a rule they gauge the number of different letters by the size of the community.

HAIG IS WITHIN A HALF MILE OF PASSCHENDALE

Terrific Fighting Marks Approach To Town Which Has Been Object In Drive

CANADIANS ARE IN THE FRONT

By Wm. Phillip Simms

Nov. 6.—The first shock of another smashing blow by Field Marshal Haig early today carried Canadian troops into Mellighele Spur and into Messines market beyond and to the northwest of Passchendale. Head quarter advisers reported as this dispatch was filed declared that the fighting is unusually bitter—the Germans contesting every inch of the ridge. Mellighele Spur was carried by storm attacks. If the British are able to retain the Spur they will be within a half mile of the city of Passchendale.

In Massachusetts, Governor McCall, Republican, is a candidate for a third term, with Frederick W. Mansfield, Democrat, as his chief opponent.

Voters of the Sixth Massachusetts district will elect a congressman to succeed Augustus P. Gardner, who resigned to enter the military service.

THAT SOLDIER'S CHRISTMAS BOX

Bear in mind that Soldiers Christmas Boxes may be sent by mail and via at this end of the line. That is the sender can vouch for the contents of the box and if the postmaster is satisfied he places his official stamp thereon. When he accepts same for transmission the box is carried through to its destination without investigation, opening of molestation by the censor.

and her soldiers reached Clearfield this week and already the mails of the local postoffice have started to double in size. Hundreds of our people have received copies of the following "prayer" and are biting on the scheme and sending it along:

"Oh God, we implore Thy blessings on our soldiers and sailors. Keep them in the hollow of Thy hand. This was received by me October 31, 1917. It has been all over the world. Copy it and see what happens. It was said in olden days that all who wrote this would be free from care and all who would pass it by would meet with misfortune. Send it to seven persons and on the seventh day you will receive great joy. Send one day you receive this please. Do not break the chain; be sure and sign your name."

When you receive a copy of this or something along the same line do not fall for the trick. It is intended to defeat the very purpose you aim at and by loading the mails aims to make the soldiers in camp homesick and despondent because they do not hear more regularly from the home folks. This is the idea and object of this and all other forms of endless chain postal requests you may receive now or hereafter. Please bear this in mind.

Also remember that all right thinking Americans, male or female, are daily offering up prayers for the success of our arms and the preservation and safe return of our soldiers. They do not need any "endless chain" reminder to do so, and the person who needs such reminder would not pray anyhow. Besides "the prayers of the wicked availeth not."

Pray for our brave boys at the front but keep your pen dry, where endless chain prayers are concerned.

TUESDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 6, 1917.

Take this tip from father: Don't neglect to go to the polls this evening and then kick about the way the different departments of government are run during the next year.

A representative of the Department of Agriculture addressed a meeting in Washington a few days ago and emphasized the need of production of purer milk at a lower price. He might rent a farm and show the American dairymen how to do it.

We are in receipt of a communication from some one signing the name of Antonio Maccaromo which of course, was written by some one afraid to sign his real name. Will the gentleman, if he is one, kindly call at our office tonight to discuss the matter he writes about? If not, we will feel obliged to reply to him in these columns, and our reply is likely to need an asbestos covering to go thru the mails.

Hoover says the prices of food will be reduced before the New Year comes and Garfield says there will be plenty of coal for all domestic and industrial needs. Crozier says there will be rifles enough for our soldiers who go to France. Sharpe says there will be adequate heating apparatus in the cantonment barracks. The use of the future tense by the authorities at Washington seems to be unanimous.

W. J. Bryan says that he does not know how long the war will last but that he knows the quickest way out is straight through. Fine fine! And how splendid that would have sounded a few years back when a Republican administration was trying to put down the Aguinaldo rebellion in order to bring peace, health and happiness to the residents of the Philippines. But Bryan was singing a different song in those days.

When a few days ago John Edgar Manning, scarcely eighteen years of age, cut short his college education to join Battery A, 316 Field Artillery, this made the fifth son of Governor and Mrs. Richard I. Manning of South Carolina, to enter the United States army. His next older brother, about two years below the age requirements for the draft, is serving as a private. The three other sons of the Governor, Wyndham, Bernard and William, all married, are in the service two of them sacrificing a handsome salary to volunteer.

And they say this is a Rich Man's War!

By the time another issue of this paper is printed the voters will have spoken and the vast governmental machinery of our country will be putting into effect the wish of the people, expressed by the people and for the people. So far as elections are concerned we are not willing to concede that government of the people, by the people and for the people has perished from the earth. Oftimes however, our judgment on men goes awry and we, the people, elect a man who governs those who elected him, not with the idea of carrying out the wishes of his constituents but with the sole idea of exercising autocratic powers himself. In no other way can our method of government fail to be a government of the people by the people and for the people and our present system of ballots approaches nearer the ideal stage than any system in the world. No man can win an office under our system unless he is the choice of the greater number of people, so no matter who wins today, accept the verdict of the people for it is theirs to govern.

Building Credit

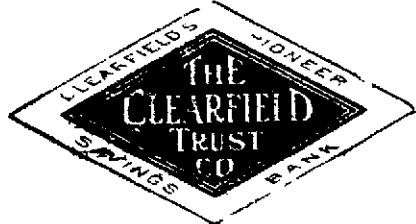

THE WORLD'S BUSINESS is done largely on a credit basis.

CREDIT primarily consists in the temporary use of funds belonging to another.

ITS EXTENSION is based upon a confidence in the borrower's ability and reputation for meeting his obligations as they fall due.

A BANK ACCOUNT with a reliable financial institution is a strong credit recommendation.

THIS INSTITUTION invites Commercial Accounts.

Economical Dishes.
Peanut butter is a highly nourishing food and may be used in various ways in the preparation of the meal.

Peanut Loaf.
To one-half cupful of finely chopped peanuts add a cupful of boiled rice, and one cupful of fine bread crumbs. Mix thoroughly, add a tablespoonful of softened peanut butter, one egg, well beaten, and a fourth of a teaspoonful of sage. Form into a loaf and bake half an hour. Serve with tartar sauce.

Rye Mush Meal.
Mix a half cupful of rye meal, one-half cupful of cold water and a half teaspoonful of salt, add to one and a fourth cupfuls of boiling water and cook one hour in a double boiler. Serve with maple syrup.

Tomato Mince Meat.
Take a peck of green tomatoes slice them and let stand in salt for 24 hours, drain and add 24 apples, five pounds of brown sugar, three pounds of raisins two pounds of currants, a tablespoonful of cinnamon, a teaspoonful of cloves, one grated nutmeg and a pint of good vinegar, cook one and a half hours, then put into glass cans and seal.

Bread Crumb Griddle Cakes.
Take a pint of thick sour milk, a half teaspoonful of salt, a teaspoonful of soda, one egg, one cupful of whole wheat flour and enough white flour to make a batter with one cupful of break crumbs. Beat well and cook on a hot griddle.

Oatmeal Bread.
Pour two cupfuls of scalded milk on one and a half cupfuls of uncooked oatmeal; add two tablespoonfuls of shortening, a teaspoonful of salt, and two tablespoonfuls of molasses. When cool add one-third of a yeast cake softened and mixed with a half cupful of lukewarm water, three cupfuls of whole wheat flour and two cupfuls of white flour; mix with a knife to a dough, adding as much flour as is needed. Wash the bowl and butter it, then put back the bread to rise in a warm place. When double its bulk, cut into two loaves, shape and bake one hour after it has risen to double its bulk again.

BOGGS TOWNSHIP HOUSE BURNS

The residence of Isaac Biesh located in the Turner settlement in Boggs township burned last night on account of a defective flue. Mr. Biesh detected the fire and put it out once and some time later smelled smoke again. Returning to the attic he found the flames had gotten such headway that it was impossible to save the building. Mr. Biesh is tax collector for Boggs township and it is reported that a considerable sum of money was burned. This rumor is unconfirmed.

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

CAROLINE LIZZARI

the famous contralto, in the Dallas Opera House, Thursday night, August 16th, stood beside the New Edison and sang in direct comparison with the Re-Creation of her voice.

"The Phonograph with a Soul" has created a new form of musicale. It is known as the Tone-Test Recital. In every city of this country music shrines welcome this form of entertainment as of the highest.

HULDAH VOEDISCH

the famous violinist, gave a similar convincing demonstration with her violin.

"WHIZ" SOAP

TWO SOAPS IN ONE

For Hand Use

Automobilists, Shopmen and Mechanics like "Whiz" because it cleans the hands clean. It gets down into the cracks and pores of the skin and drags the dirt out bodily. It removes dirt, grease, grime and stains that ordinary soap cannot touch. Wash your hands with cake soap—then give them a "WHIZ" bath, and see the difference. "WHIZ" and dirt simply can't be friends.

For Kitchen Use

For Kitchen and Bathroom scouring "WHIZ" is a delight to the housewife. It scours so effectively—yet so easily. Put a can of "WHIZ" on your kitchen sink—use it for scouring anything—pots, pans, sink, bathtub, kitchen utensils. When "WHIZ" says "scout" to dirt—it scoots. Just try one can—you'll like it well enough to use another.

Quickest Pain Killer On Earth

Mustarine Stops All Pain in Half the Time it Takes Other Remedies—Often times in Five Minutes. Subdues Inflammation and Reduces Swellings With Amazing Speed.

TAKES ONLY ONE 25 CENT BOX TO PROVE IT

Don't be downhearted! Never mind if you have tried plasters and liniments and other things that don't start to banish the pain and agony till day after tomorrow.

If you want to kill pain, get rid of aches—draw out inflammation and make all swellings disappear with amazing speed get a 25c box of MUSTARINE right away.

Chemist Begy discovered Mustarine. He made it of good, honest, true yellow mustard—added other pain-deceiving ingredients—took out the blister and astonished the medical profession by giving to the world a preparation ten times better than Grandmother's good old-fashioned but dirty and blistering mustard plaster.

Mustarine relieves headache, toothache, earache and neuralgia in five minutes—in an hour all misery will disappear.

Sore throat goes over night—lumbago agony in an hour. Chest colds, stiff necks, neuritis, pleurisy, rheumatic pains and swelling all yield promptly and are speedily ended with Mustarine, the original mustard plaster substitute in the yellow box—only 25 cents.

WORTH OF A SIMPLE RULE

Value Demonstrated by Novel's Heroine Who Believed No Situation Justified a Wrong Deed.

The heroine of a novel of more than usual interest, by adhering persistently to a maxim, saves several persons from the consequences of their weaknesses and brings them to her own point of view in a truly astonishing way. The nub of her philosophy is that if you do right, only good will come of it and she proceeds from the first chapter to work practical proof of it among a circle of people bent on indulging their own wills and whims rather than doing right.

Some simple rule of conduct is a convenience for everybody, says the Pittsburgh Gazette-Times. It may easily become a personal motto and living up to it a fetish. That was the case with the heroine of fiction; doing right was almost an obsession with her, but for all that she was by no means dull and the opposite of insipid. She believed no situation justified a wrong deed and none was so bad that a good one couldn't improve it, so she persisted in doing right when everybody else in the book—save one, of course—seemed determined to do wrong. But she proved the worth of a simple rule in governing daily conduct with people.

Beyond Repair.

In Boston you may split friendships and later cement them back together. But nothing can ever repair the damage done to a split intuitive.—Florida Times Union.

About Persons.

N. E. Holister, ninety-two, paints houses in Terryville, Ky. C. I. Bailey of Bangor, Me., works as a traveling man though ninety-five.

William Barnes, a Pennsylvania hermit, starved to death while ill recently.

J. G. Moore has completed 50 years in the service of a Washington bank.

S. N. Murphy has returned to his home and family in Carrollton, Ga., after 40 years of tramp life.

J. G. Harbison, chief of staff of General Pershing, is a Kansas and West Point man. He enlisted in the army as a private.

Dr. Gordon Edwards of Berkeley, Cal., has discovered how to administer quinine by spraying on raw wounds so it will act as a pain killer.

When Itching Stops

There is one safe, dependable treatment that relieves itching torture and skin irritation almost instantly and that cleanses and soothes the skin.

Ask any druggist for a 50c or $1 bottle of zemo and apply it as directed. Soon you will find that irritations, pimples, blackheads, eczema, blotches, ringworm and similar skin troubles will disappear.

A little zemo, the penetrating, satisfying liquid, is all that is needed, for it banishes most skin eruptions and makes the skin soft, smooth and healthy. The E. W. Rose Co., Cleveland, O.

A RAW, SORE THROAT

Soaks Quickly When You Apply a Little Musterole.

And Musterole won't blister like the old-fashioned mustard plaster. Just spread it on with your fingers. It penetrates to the sore spot with a gentle angle, loosens the congestion and draws out the soreness and pain.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. It is fine for quick relief from sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuritis, headache, congestion, pleurisy, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, chilblains, frostbite, colds on the chest (it often prevents pneumonia), itching like Musterole for croupy children. Keep it handy for instant use. 50c and 80c jars, hospital size $2.50.

DUTY OF PRESENT MINISTRY

Better Than All the Post-Mortem Testimonials and Devotion We Can Bestow.

Do not keep your sublime love and tenderness sealed up until your friends are dead. Fill their lives with sweetness; speak approving, cheering words while their ears can hear them, and while their hearts can be thrilled and be made happier by them. The kind things you mean to do when they are gone, do before they go. The flowers you mean to send for their coffins, send to brighten and sweeten their homes before they leave them. If my friends have alabaster boxes laid away full of fragrant perfumes of sympathy and affection which they intend to break over my dead body, I would rather they would bring them out in my weary and troubled hours and open them that I may be refreshed and cheered by them while I need them. I would rather have a plain coffin without flowers, a funeral without a eulogy, than life without sweetness of love and sympathy. Let us learn to anoint our friend beforehand for burial. Post-mortem kindness does not cheer the burdened spirit; flowers on a coffin cast no fragrance backward over the weary way.—Selected.

The Undergraduate Speaks.

I find that there is a cause for the lack of individuality in undergraduate theses, a cause other than the mere absence of ideas in undergraduates. It may be traced even to the doors of classrooms and to the chairs of college professors. For, in college, literature is not a thing of the spirit but of the mind, and you will encounter above the door of the English department the scholar's first and last commandment, "Beware of your emotions."

There is no escape for those who enter, so have done with your adolescence, which has given you to understand beauty and freshness of phrase. You are face to face now with form, with technique, and with the history of literature.—Atlantic.

CURWENSVILLE

Rudyard Kipling remarks: "It ain't the guns and armament, nor funds that they can pay, but the close co-operation that makes them win the day; it ain't the individual nor the army as a whole, but the everlasting teamwork of every bloomin' soul." Thus the citizens of Curwensville will continue to co-operate with their sons by contributing liberally this week to the War Camp Community Recreation Fund of our Board of Trade whereby the health, strength, and morale of our soldier boys will be best conserved in the communities adjacent to the war camps. VICK'S VAPORUB

TO PUBLISH LIFE OF PENNYPACKER

Autobiography Announced as Serial By Philadelphia Evening Ledger

Philadelphia, Nov. 6.—Full and complete, the autobiography of Samuel W. Pennypacker, former Governor of Pennsylvania and one of the men most intimately connected with the growth of the Keystone State, will be published in daily installments by the Philadelphia Evening Ledger, commencing November 17.

Dealing as it does with every phase of the life of Governor Pennypacker, this autobiography will undoubtedly prove of great general interest throughout the state, particularly in the sections in which the writer lived. The governor's great fund of information, supported by his prodigious memory of events which occurred years ago, makes of this story a practical history of the southeastern section of the state from the middle of the last century to the present time.

Mud Hornet Is More Than A Match for the Spider; Captures Victim by Trick

I once saw, on the porch of my residence on Lake Hopatcong, a mud hornet deliberately fall into and entangle herself in a spider web. Hudson Maxlin writes in the North American Review. The spider, perching upon an outer corner of the web, instantly spring at the hornet, then stopped, and decided that it did not want to tackle the hornet, and returned to its perch.

After waiting a while for the spider to come to the attack, the hornet freed herself very easily from the web; and I watched her fly several times in circles and then deliberately alight in another nearby web and entangle herself in it. Instantly the alert spider, evidently either more hungry or less cautious than the other, sprang upon the hornet, when, with an alacrity that would shame the lightning, and with a precision developed beyond the contingency of error, that hornet seized the spider, jabbed her sting into it and paralyzed it. Then she did it up nicely and carried it away.

I learned afterward, in the study of insects, that this is the regular habit of the mud hornet—that she catches spiders in this manner, paralyzing them with her sting. She places them one after another in a mud pocket that she has constructed for the purpose, until she has enough canned spiders to feed her young when they hatch out in the spring. The spiders do not die, but remain alive in their prison until attacked by the larvae of the hornet and eaten at the proper time. Rather hard on the spiders, but the habits of the spiders themselves are not such as to elicit much sympathy.

Speed Up.

You never can tell the limit of your capacity until you have been compelled to speed up. Many a fellow goes through life with average rating who has in him the fitness of the topnotcher. The trouble is he has never been brought to his limit. His daily tasks have made no great demands on him and he has learned to take life easy. Such fellows need the challenge of a great speeding up. They need a call to their reserve forces that will compel a response from every fibre of their being. They need to have the consciousness of their own ability roused to action.—Pennsylvania Grit.

HOTEL MAN GETS QUICK RELIEF

Feet So Sore that Wearing Shoes was Nearly Impossible

A prominent hotel man of Altoona, Pa. was troubled with tender feet. Could hardly walk at times but now he is having no trouble whatever. Mr. Grant Yon, proprietor of the Mountain City Hotel says:

"So sore was I in my hips and legs that I had to neglect my duties altogether. With two or three applications of 20TH CENTURY LINIMENT the pain disappeared. Thus encouraged I tried this remedy on my feet which have been so sore and tender for years that at times I could scarcely stand it to put on my shoes. The soreness left like magic.

"That was over two months ago and I have not been troubled since." Get this remarkable remedy at your druggist's or at other stores where such things are sold for 50c and 1 the bot.

Military Organization of Romans 2,000 Years Ago Was Model of Efficiency

When Rome invaded the Germanic countries—about 11 B. C., or Julius Caesar's time—the Roman general staff was obliged to send back to the rear along the Rhine and the Lippe—large amounts of grain and other rations, says the People's Home Journal. The vessels in which these were transported nearly 2,000 years ago have been found in mounds of earth and refuse recently excavated. These great earthen vessels are marked with many inscriptions regarding their contents, showing how carefully the Roman general staff did its work. As an example of efficiency the Roman military organization has been the wonder of the world. From the inscriptions on these vessels one discovers how the Roman soldier was fed. His rations evidently consisted of bread, the staff of life, for the preparation of which the grain was ground in small hand mills.

Fish, snails, mussels and oysters, as well as many kinds of fruit, especially peaches, were included in the bill of fare. Of metal vessels the common man of that day knew very little; he ate from earthen unglazed dishes and cooked his food in pots of the same ware. A curious document has been found in the caves of the 1,000 Buddhas in India, written about 900 A. D., and in a good state of preservation. The author, a military officer by the name of Bagatur Chisli, pronounces in angry terms his dissatisfaction with the food supplied by the commissary department, viz: One sheep and two butts of water for the commanding officer and 30 adjutants, all of whose names are recorded. "Bagut, the commissary, is a wretched, good-for-nothing slave," declared Bagatur. This complaint recorded over 1,000 years ago, is the "touch of nature which makes the whole world kin."

Your Fire Insurance

No Longer Protects Your Risk

because, since 1914—due to constantly advancing costs of material and labor—your HOME—your BUILDINGS—your MACHINERY—your FIXTURES—your MERCHANDISE—your HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS—RUGS, CARPETS, TEXTILES, have greatly increased in value.

Suggestion:—Get out your fire insurance policies today—and write or telephone one of these insurance agents for information that will surely benefit you.

Over 300 fire-alarms this year. Over 300 next year! Over 300 the next year—and every year! That's this section's average. Fire engines are called annually to one out of every 40 structures in this section.

Put your property under a proper-sized cover of protection. Or after the fire you'll find yourself but partly protected—as shown in the illustration above.

You can insure what you own for its present ent high replacement value—for but a trifle more than what half-protection costs. Furthermore, in the face of rising prices, fire insurance rates in this section now average about 1-4 lower than four years ago!

Telephone, call upon, write or send the coupon to one of these Insurance Agents—now! (His address is on your policy) They will cheerfully give you any information, that you wish. Your fire may be the next. Don't find afterwards that you are underinsured!
